1. [] Michael Hemphill, in the office of Senator John Tower, called regarding an ONE Memorandum "Possibilities of Disruption of World Oil Supplies Through 1975." 2. [] Left with Ed Braswell, Chief Counsel, Senate Armed Services Committee, a copy of the prepared statement which the Director used in his briefing of the full Committee on 8 January 1973. I had arranged with Braswell to make this available to him after the confirmation hearings were completed on Richardson, Clements and Schlesinger.

I told Braswell that cloud cover had made it impossible for us to get the type of photography Senator Cannon was interested in of the Hanoi/Haiphong areas. Braswell suggested that we give him a letter to this effect (unclassified if possible) since the Senator had expressed a very strong interest in this.

I told Woodruff I plan to see Jim Calloway today and sign him up for his compartmented clearances. I asked Woodruff if Calloway and Guy McConnell would be working in tandem on our business. He said this was something that we would just have to wait and see how it developed. He expects however that Calloway will want McConnell to be the substantive expert, limiting himself only to those matters of particular interest to Chairman McClellan. Calloway reinforced this when I met with him later in the day and briefed him on his compartmented clearances.
